

Hybrid/Remote Instruction

In the event of a hybrid model, RCS will alternate by dividing the students within grade levels and having all students participate in 2 days of in person instruction and three days of remote learning. Remote instruction will occur through Google Classroom for students in grades 5-12. Students will be expected to join remotely during the actual class time.

In the event that RCS moves to a full remote model of instruction, all instruction will be broadcast from the school building during regular school hours. Instructional staff will report to the building and provide instruction to all of their students using a live-feed model. A modified schedule will be utilized for the students in grades PreK-6 so that the developmental level of the child is taken into consideration.

To ensure high-quality remote learning experiences, we will standardize the use of a single online learning platform, to the extent possible, and develop a common, coordinated set of guidelines for teachers to follow when using the platform with students. Grades PK-4 will use a mutually agreed upon platform and 5-12 will use Google Classroom.

As a Professional Learning Community, Roscoe Central School instructional staff will meet weekly as teams to align curriculum, discuss assessment results and plan for data-driven instruction. The educational program is aligned to the NYS learning standards at all grade levels and content areas. This collaborative process will occur weekly throughout the 2020-21 school year regardless of the learning model since instructional staff will report to the building regardless of the delivery model.

All three models of instruction will provide for daily interaction between students and teachers. This will be accomplished through an approved online platform at the PreK-4 level and Google Classroom for grade 5-12 (for the hybrid and remote models). In the event that a student does not participate in the live instruction (for the hybrid and remote models), teachers will contact the family during the school day to ensure that they answer any questions that the student may have.

In the event that a hybrid or a remote model of instruction is necessary RCS will be diligent in maintaining communication between the school and the home. Roscoe Central utilizes a variety of methods to ensure regular contact with students and families. Roscoe Central will ensure that the school website and social media outlets are updated regularly with the most current information. Anytime that information is posted to the website/social media, a School Messenger will be sent out regarding this post.
